God Uses Everyone. Christians don’t seem to realize that God uses everything and everyone even though they proclaim to know that. So a few months before the Lord would enlighten me to my calling and what part of the body of Christ I am, I ran into my neighbor in the laundry room of our apartment building. She was a very rough lesbian, maybe 20 years older than me, who walked around with a baseball bat so that our friend, a decent sized guy, said that he was afraid of her. Having taken her towels out of the machine since they’d been done for quite a while—and with two preschoolers I had loads of laundry—she turned on me super mad and yelled:

“You don’t know who you are!”

So while I didn’t know it at the time, I now understand that God was using the demons within her to speak the truth just as they did with Jesus and Paul. When Jesus came upon the man at Gergesenes the demons within the man “cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God?” (Matt. 8:29, KJV). Likewise, when Paul and his companions came upon a young woman possessed with a spirit of divination, the demons within her knew the truth and said “These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation” (Acts 16:17, KJV). In other words, demons are more discerning than today’s born again Christians! Woe to us!

Seeking God Among the Harlot Daughters. We hadn’t found a decent church since they’re such weird places—that’s what stands out most when taken on a Muck & Mire Church Tour by the Founder of the Touring Company. To Buddy it was no big deal, "It's just the way it is." As if he was saying ‘Who cares?’ While he called himself a Christian, he had no expectations from God or from church/Christians—like the norm. In contrast, I was burdened that church had the answers since that’s the stamp the Man had placed on my Passport—and it's what the new covenant says! Except, like most for the past 500 years, I’d misunderstood the definition of church. And this video sums it up. What Constitutes A Real Church? https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZGmeIUK4xpEhttps://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZGmeIUK4xpE
In any case, facing the truth that my Christian husband wasn’t much of a Christian, I finally put my foot down. I’d prayerfully found a so-called church in the yellow pages that marketed itself as “reaching out to the unchurched” (me!). So I went to Eagle during the week to check it out, grabbing every bit of paperwork they had at the entryway, which gave me a sense of—nesting.

Therefore, I told Buddy I was going with or without him. He’d burned out from the so-called church as a pastor’s kid seeing all the garbage (at least that’s what he told me) while I’d burned out from the world’s garbage. And living in The Landfill had us at the edge of divorce.

But since God is faithful and working out His Plan, we went to Eagle as a family. And that first day a very happy and friendly man introduced himself to us after the service and, knowing nothing about us, joked about how he and his wife had been at the point of divorce when they’d first come there—at which time Buddy and I SHOT EACH OTHER LOOKS—but God had turned it all around for them at this great church.

FOOD! Starved for love, and “God is love” (1 John 4:8, KJV), I devoured everything He offered: a seeker class studying Surprised by Faith by Don Bierle, a heavy duty paper by Peter Bocchino on thermodynamics and God, two growing in Christ studies, Blackaby’s Experiencing God, and a slew of other studies, books, and conferences, along with some paper on baptism so that I was finally baptized.
While I discern I was born again before this point, I didn’t believe with all my heart because of my questions (Acts 8:36-37 below). I knew Jesus was God, that the Bible was His Word, and that I was a sinner. But the questions made everything fuzzy. Still, through the studies and experiences while at Eagle those first few months, God answered enough questions that I knew it was time to get baptized. And the Lord would answer all the questions—even ones I didn’t know I had—over the next two decades.

Acts 8:36-37, KJV If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest [be baptized]. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God [and was baptized].

God is Faithful. Since the hirelings call people to volunteer, wanting to be a “good person,” I immediately answered their call to work in the preschool ministry. Therefore, I was learning as I was teaching, doing what you’re NOT supposed to do, and as the masses of institutional Christians do. Yet Jesus warned us saying “It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones” (Luke 17:2, KJV).

For example, Michael Chriswell in his video “Why We Left the Church” repeatedly tells people to remain in the institutional church if they’re getting fed. But that’s not God’s will. He says “Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues” (Rev. 18:4, KJV). If you’re a Christian you SHOULD see the problem as revealed in this graphic and videos! The Catholic church rejects Jesus’ lordship placing the pope as head of the church, and the denominations reject the lordship of Christ in favor of the pope. That’s a big problem for professing Christians.
If you’re getting fed in the institutional church, as I was, it’s because God is using them in spite of them (like He’s using Buddy to fund me to help His people, in spite of Buddy). It’s out of His grace and mercy being that “if we believe not, yet he abideth faithful [since] he cannot deny himself” (2 Tim. 2:13, KJV). Thank God! But we shouldn’t keep building on this false system that’s led by Satan.

But since God works with what He’s got, this song is what He did for me through Eagle (through the born again within her)—those first two years. And it was prophetic considering everything that’s taken place since then, beginning with them. The Lord took me from why why why? to the Korean Heritage Choir’s version of Hezekiah Walker’s song, God Favored Me. And it’s where God is taking His Girl, the unbiblical BRAT. The Koreans in the following video express the truth behind the words of the song. YouTube: Heritage Choir God Favored me. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UhNiIhOodHw&feature=youtu.be

Satan’s Advocate. Fairly quickly God made it clear that He wanted me to share my testimony which I hadn’t shared with anyone. And He wanted me to do it with the whole congregation at my baptism!

So while we tend to complain that God takes too long, we’re then bothered that He’s moving TOO FAST! I’m so shy in front of a group that I put off Junior English in college until my very last semester knowing I would have to give a 3 minute presentation in front of the class. On top of that, sharing testimony about how I came to the Lord included the Psych Ward. It also meant that I had to go against Buddy’s worldly counsel, because God was introducing his partial role in my life as Satan’s advocate—all of which caused me to go spelunking in the Valley since “we wrestle not against flesh and blood but against....spiritual wickedness in high places” (Eph. 6:12, KJV).
It’s tough to have your husband, the one who’s supposed to be the spiritual head of your home, and a professing Christian who’s supposedly been a Christian for years, son of a pastor, NOT encourage you in Christ but speak contrary to His leading! Especially, considering where I was coming from and the fact that God had led me to marry the man! It was, and has been, a MAJOR head Game.

Praying with an Open Scroll. Challenged, obeying the Lord, I was encouraged and empowered by God as many extended to me the “right hand of fellowship” (Gal. 2:9, KJV) since God used my testimony to encourage and challenge them in their walk, which also helped build up my trust in Him. And since Satan’s NOT INTO THAT, Foes were really making a fuss again. Especially since God had renewed what He’d started on the bed sheets, praying His Word, so that I was doing it much more focused having grown in Christ.

Porking Out. Since my mind was now clear, as opposed to when I was born again (being so stressed out), and I’d been digging deep into God’s Word, I realized that I was thirty plus years into my life and hadn’t stored up a thing in heaven! (Matt. 6:20 below). Panicked about it, I began asking God to give me His work to do—thinking it would be paid work (Isa. 55:8 below).

Matthew 6:20, KJV  Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal.

Isaiah 55:8, KJV  My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the LORD.
So during an RZIM conference, Bill Bean, the worship pastor, asked me if I’d be interested in editing a book written by the pastor who’d just blown us all out of the water, Sunder Krishnan, Ravi Zacharias’ brother in law and mentor to Eagle.

Was I interested!? Not only did it answer my prayer, I immediately saw how my work experience in publications tied in to God’s calling on my life, though I knew nothing of a holy Cup yet. So while unpaid, I was still interested even though Sunder’s book was in such bad shape that no publisher would pick it up, and the transition to DIY publishing hadn't taken place yet. The Web wouldn’t even be mainstream for another two years. Cell phones weren’t even popular yet!

As a study on the psalms, Sunder’s book was a gold mine! It was like working on a translation (which I loved doing) because the man had a Master’s in mechanical engineering from MIT, of all places, and neither was English his first language. Let’s just say it wasn’t exactly ‘user friendly.’ It was more like a 200-page run on sentence! But what a sentence! A sentence God had prepped me for with the work He’d had me do on those journal articles at MayaTech.

I also knew I had to clearly understand not only what Sunder was saying, but what God was saying through His Word which Sunder was interpreting, and that the only way to do the job right would be to read everything he’d written and referenced—what I could get my hands on. Doing that, I got interested in books those books referenced and other books and resources they referenced…so that I was porking out like Maya from Maya Makes a Mess, a book the Lord provided in 2012, about 14 years later. And why not pork out like Maya? After all, I am Maya. And I do love FOOD (John 6:55 below)—material and spiritual.

John 6:55, KJV [Jesus says] My flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.
Having sent Sunder a draft of my work, he immediately called me from Canada, super hyper, saying he was so pleased he was making me co-author, which naturally inspired me to pork out all the more.

Bill said Sunder was Eagle’s mentor, and the man was biblically solid (as good as they get in the harlot system). He was also firmly associated with RZIM, not only as an associate but as Ravi’s brother-in-law.

However, as the Bible warns us “knowledge puffs up” (1 Cor. 8:1, NIV), and cold fronts do come in from Canada. So as things went down with Eagle, it wasn’t terribly shocking that I never heard from Canada again. And God had prepped me for the Cold Front by letting me experience Sunder's cold shoulder/too busy for people manner in person. The same manner they all have once you get past the fake surface level greeting of Grip and Grin. Except that’s not how they should be according to the Manual (Matt. 7:12 below), even according to what they themselves preach. So Jesus says “Whatsoever thy bid you observe...do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not” (Matt. 23:3, KJV). They’re hypocrites.

Matthew 7:12, KJV All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

And in 2016 God showed me that Ravi is an occult Illuminati Freemason—not actually a follower of Jesus Christ, explaining some of the unbiblical statements he’s made over the years.
Baby Faith. Just as soon as we landed at Eagle, having lost my father to cancer, my 24-month old presented with what they thought might be Leukemia. Impressed by God that both girls were more His than they are mine, I gave it up. Not easily, but I gave it up. You either soften or harden your heart to God, every day, especially when trials arise. He says “To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your heart” (Heb. 3:15, KJV). That’s always the choice, and it’s very often not an easy one to make because if it were easy there’d be no growth.

During that difficult Valley experience the Lord began teaching my baby how to trust Him. And while she never cried when having her blood drawn, her eyes would get REALLY BIG if we drove near the hospital, which we often did. So I promised to tell her beforehand if she was going to have blood drawn and that I’d help her prepare for it (teaching her how to relax her little muscles and engage her little brain on the love of Christ). How many preschoolers do you know who don’t cry when getting stuck with a needle, especially at 24 months of age?! Only God makes that happen.

And God, our Father, also loves us enough to prepare us for things in our future. Except you need to listen, believe, and do what He says (Amos 3:7 & Heb. 11:6 below), like my baby did.

Amos 3:7, KJV Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets.

Hebrews 11:6, KJV Without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

A Vine and a Bonsai. One day a man at Eagle and two of the pastors wanted to lay hands on me and pray over me. Then, as they prayed, the man went off on a word picture of an intricately woven basket with a green vine in it. The vine is very green and growing and growing and growing... He went on and on about it. And God is very intricate and I was very “green.” And since then there’s been loads and loads of growth. Even then “pastor” Kerry Bowman had noted that I was “growing by leaps and bounds.” I was, because I finally really understood who I am, “for as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God” (Rom. 8:14, KJV). I also better understood who He is, “love” (1 John 4:8, KJV).
During that same season Kerry did a series called The Gardener, out of John 15 where Jesus says:

I am the true vine, and my Father is the gardener. He cuts off every branch in me that bears no fruit, while every branch that does bear fruit he prunes so that it will be even more fruitful. You are already clean because of the word I have spoken to you. Remain in me, as I also remain in you. No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine. Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in me. I am the vine; you are the branches. If you remain in me and I in you, you will bear much fruit; apart from me you can do nothing. If you do not remain in me, you are like a branch that is thrown away and withers; such branches are picked up, thrown into the fire and burned. If you remain in me and my words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you (John 15 1-7, NIV).

Listening to the sermon, I heard the Lord say that I was a bonsai tree as He reminded me of what I’d been taught in a college poetry class years earlier since “the Holy Spirit...will remind [us] of everything [He] said to you” (John 14:26, NIV). An older man had written a poem called I Do Bonsai, explaining to the class all about bonsai trees. More recently, visiting the National Arboretum, I was further enlightened. The link is no longer available but there was a slide show and this particular tree was slide #25, which God then tied to the movie The Secret Life of Walter Mitty (2013) which He’s had me interpret.

In any case, there are six things God is saying to His elect about this bonsai/me:

1. They’re normal trees. So that “Elijah was a human being, even as we are” (James 5:17, NIV). He was a regular guy, like me, only I’m female;
2. The Gardener’s work is training;
3. The tree gets pruned intensely;
4. It’s a really long process—since 1626! So 20 years isn’t bad in comparison; and,
5. It was an overcomer of the atomic bomb, stressing the magnitude of the war we’re in “against spiritual wickedness in high places” (Eph. 6:12, KJV).
What the Lord impressed upon me back then, which would help sustain me over the difficult years of massive pruning, was that I was growing at a decent rate (as the vine in the basket) and would be pruned substantially according to His wishes (as the bonsai) since He’s “the gardener” (John 15:1. NIV).

I also understood that the spiritual war would be intense since that’s how He had started me on this walk just as soon as I’d become born again bringing me in through the Scared Straight Program and because of what the Bible says, and how history has played out—in a word, Hiroshima.

And yet, I still got blind-sided, repeatedly, because we all love to lobotomize ourselves—as Christians have historically done.

A Calling without Honor. By the end of the second year at Eagle the Lord was using me to speak for Him and feel the heat. He says “Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake...for great is your reward in heaven” (Matt. 5:11-12, KJV). “All that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution” (2 Tim. 3:12, KJV). Having called me to “Feed [His] sheep” (John 21:17, KJV), Chef started the burner on low heat for a long simmer with a friend who asked for financial counsel. But when I gave it to her using the Bible and my bankruptcy testimony, she immediately turned on me because it meant she couldn’t buy the truck she wanted, abruptly ending our friendship as she shot daggers at me across the sanctuary for a year. And it wasn’t in my head because another friend once asked why that woman was glaring at me with such hatred. (She eventually asked forgiveness for it while confessing to the trials that had followed since she'd bought the truck anyhow.)

Overlapping with the darts shooting in from this woman and from my family of origin, God then turned up the heat with leadership in the preschool ministry while also having me work on Sunder’s book. The Lord was cooking! And since He’s a Gourmet Chef, His stove has 12 multiple burners so that He got other burners going to include other leaders and all of the pastors, while darts also shot in from strangers and several people from my past who tried to reconnect out of nowhere, all the while having me immersed in His Word and in prayer with others around the city.

So one day while downloading, Mrs. Malcolm X suddenly burst out laughing. “Maya! You’re a prophet and you don’t even know it!”

Her words scared me.

Asking the Lord if it was true, He confirmed it immediately and for years many times over through a combination of Scripture and trials—Food (John 6:35 & 55 below) and Heat (2 Tim. 3:12; Heb. 12:29 below). We all know that’s a great combination. And then He gave me the culinary parable covered in the booklet IAM.

John 6:35, KJV Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

John 6:55, KJV For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

2 Timothy 3:12, KJV All that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.

Hebrews 12:29, KJV For our God is a consuming fire.
In fact, I’ve been in one play my whole life and had one short line, “Out of the fire, and into the frying pan.” So at some point I realized that it had been a Word for my life. The play was a spoof on Little Red Riding Hood, that classic where a big bad wolf deceives EVERYONE (Matt. 7:15 below) with the goal of ravaging them (1 Peter 5:8 & Matt. 10:16 below). Only he gets what’s coming to him in the end (Rev. 20:10 below). HA! Llelujah!

Matthew 7:15, KJV Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

1 Peter 5:8, KJV Your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour.

Matthew 10:16, KJV Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves.

Revelation 20:10, YLT The Devil, who is leading them astray, was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where [are] the beast and the false prophet, and they shall be tormented day and night -- to the ages of the ages.

Preschool Prophecies with a Double Twist
As the trial ended with our baby, Buddy presented with symptoms they couldn’t diagnose for years, and which further developed over the years. Then while working on the original book, God showed me that He had prophesied about it all through some birthday parties we’d thrown the girls during those early years while at Eagle. The first one was a Doctor’s party and the other had been a Stranded on an Island theme which was prophetic about this calling. And the only thing Christian about the parties was that some of us were Christian, either born again or professing. They were just standard preschool birthday parties thrown by a mom who loves little kids, the Lord, and is creative.

The Good Physician’s Party. I sent out invitations calling doctors to form a medical team to extract the BBOMA bug from our patient (Buddy). The thing bugging me was having Both Birthday’s One Month Apart (BBOMA) right during Christmas which we still celebrated.
Seeing the pictures again, God smacked me upside the head with the revelation since “the Holy Spirit...remind[s us] of everything [He has] said to [us]” (John 14:26, NIV).

Hooking Up to the Source: During the girls’ well visit we told their pediatrician of our birthday plans so that he suddenly rushed out of the room all excited and returned with a plastic oxygen mask and its tubes—a kid at heart (Matt. 18:3 below). I hooked it up to a painted five gallon water bottle for our oxygen tank. It’s like what Buddy’s been hooked up to at times—and what the BRAT needs to do, ASAP. CODE BLUE! (Acts 1:8 below)

Matthew 18:3, KJV Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Acts 5:32, NIV The Holy Spirit...God has given to those who obey him.

Acts 1:8, NIV You will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you; and you will be my witnesses.

Diseased Head to Toe: I presented Buddy with a new set of PJs and fellows in residence taped loads of candy and small toys onto them, hiding the BBOMA bug under his surgical cap. And today, Buddy is ill from head to toe, just like God’s Girl who “look[s] beautiful on the outside but on the inside [is] full of the bones of the dead and everything unclean” (Matt. 23:27, NIV). And he does have a growth in his head, just like the Lord’s Girl for not “bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ” (2 Cor. 10:5, KJV). What’s happened is this passage:

When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none. Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first (Matt. 12:43-45, KJV).
Misdiagnosed: This has repeatedly happened to Buddy and it’s what God’s Girl does by being unable to tell difference between true and false prophets when it shouldn’t be that hard for the born again. “Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Consider your ways” (Hag. 1:7, KJV).

A Mad Dash to Help the Dying: I made ambulances for all the doctors for a sack race. God says “Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain” (1 Cor. 9:24, KJV).

Sincere Concern: After the party Buddy said the children had been genuinely concerned for him forgetting it was just play. If only God’s adult children were like that. If only they understood that genuine “love is patient...[and] kind...does not envy...does not boast...[and] is not proud” (1 Cor. 13:4, NIV).

Scrubs & Gloves: I made scrubs for each child and Mrs. Malcolm X donated surgical caps, medical face masks, and gloves for balloons. It’s like what the Lord has done except we haven’t made use of the equipment He’s given us. By going to the Cross God gave the faithful “authority to drive out impure spirits and to heal every disease and sickness” (Matt. 10:1, KJV). But you only have that authority when walking in the Spirit.

Figuring Out the Game Plan: The kids worked great together to bring Buddy back to health, submitting to the one I’d made Head Doctor, the oldest one (1 Tim. 5:17 below) who walked them through the medical chart I’d created. I’d made a huge poster and gave him a pointer (a Venetian blind stick with red tape on the end) to organize his team and figure out their plan of attack. Really into it, they took their jobs seriously while having fun—like Christians are supposed to be doing (Neh. 8:10 & Eph. 5:21 below).

1 Timothy 5:17, KJV Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

Nehemiah 8:10, KJV For the joy of the LORD is your strength.

Ephesians 5:21, KJV Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.
Overloaded with Meds: I decorated the operating room with charts and graphs on the walls, brought out a small white bookcase ditching the books and filing it with bottles of different "meds" for the kids to give their dying patient (Rev. 3:1-3 below), and stashed it with all sorts of medical equipment. We even had an unexpected real Code Blue! (What a Buddy!)

Revelation 3:1-3, NIV You are dead. Wake up! Strengthen what remains and is about to die, for I have found your deeds unfinished in the sight of my God. Remember, therefore, what you have received and heard; hold it fast, and repent. But if you do not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what time I will come to you.

In reality, I don’t know how Buddy or this drug-addicted nation keep track. Our Physician counsels us to buy meds from Him (Rev. 3:18 below) rather than another (Mark 5:25-29; Heb. 11:6 below).

Revelation 3:18, KJV I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

Mark 5:25-29, KJV A certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years, And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment. For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole. And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

Hebrews 11:6, KJV Without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

When the Girl finally gets her head on straight, I discern patients like Buddy—seeing that God requires faithful men will finally become faithful men—and then have the faith to obey God who says the following:

Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord: And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him. Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much (James 5:14-16).

And the “elders of the church” aren’t found in so-called church buildings. They are the older more mature Christians among us, of whom there are hardly any at the moment!

Captured & Locked Up: When one of the children finally found the BBOMA bug—a beastly looking creature (Isa. 45:7 below) though kinda cute (2 Cor. 11:14 below)—we placed him in a plastic specimen jar (Rev. 20:2 below) for her to take home.

Isaiah 45:7, KJV I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the LORD do all these things.

2 Corinthians 11:14, KJV For Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light.

Revelation 20:2, KJV He laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years.

Friends called for hours afterwards to say how much fun they’d had (parents and kids), and how wound up they still were, though whipped, which parallels real Christian life, especially during the very last days. God says:
Rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ’s sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy (1 Pet. 4:13, KJV).

He [Satan through his servants] shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High (Dan. 7:25, KJV).

Working with preschoolers can go over the edge into chaos if you’re not focused—especially if you wind them up—but what fun living on the edge with them! If only Princess wasn’t such a royally brain-dead BRAT, we would have been having a blast, according to Jesus who says “The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly” (John 10:10, KJV).

So while I can have fun as I see God’s hand in all of it, it’s also been very serious with layer upon layer of stress and heartache, year after year after year. For instance, during one of the worst years for Buddy, which coincided with things coming to a head with our family on both sides—I asked the neurologist about a symptom I’d read about which, to my mind, was one of the more serious ones. I asked “What about the possibility of blindness?”

This doctor SHOT ME A LOOK and said “Maya! Blindness is the least of your problems!”

Naturally (1 Peter. 5:8 below).

1 Peter 5:8, KJV The devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour.

But he hasn’t gone blind. In fact, it’s been pretty quiet for a while. He’s ‘just’ blind spiritually. Physical blindness would have been better.

The Stranded Party. I made invitations creating a crumpled old treasure map asking for help sending it as a message in a bottle, plastic Coke bottles. So we spent an afternoon driving around town sneaking them into friends’ mailboxes. (So fun to sneak around like that with children!) And one of the games was a race to catch fish (Matt. 4:19 below). So I’d blown up our beach whale placing an American Girl doll riding it bronco in front of the house (Rev. 17:7 below) to help them find the party. Listen to this song engaging your brain and connect the dots (2 Cor. 10:5 below). YouTube Message in a Bottle The Police. https://youtu.be/ZRRSRNDuu98.

Matthew 4:19, KJV He saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

Revelation 17:7, KJV I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her.

2 Corinthians 10:5, KJV Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ.

Again, I didn’t see the connections until years later.

Gift from God. While most pastors preach as if they have it all figured out, which they obviously do not, some will think that I think I’ve got it all figured out, which I DON’T. God’s ways are anything but straightforward as far as prophesy goes. As He says “My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways” (Isa. 55:8, KJV). Yet most Christians think they’ve arrived, like Michael Chriswell who said that looking into the books would get him off track, forgetting that walking with the Lord is a daily process of listening and learning whereby He uses others to cross our paths being that we’re part of the body of Christ. “We, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another” (Rom. 12:5). And He says “Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares” (Heb. 13:2, KJV). If you’re too busy doing your own thing, you’re going to miss out on just about everything God has for you—as most Christians historically have!

And the best example the Lord gave me to stress this point about God’s ways being different than ours goes back to the Malcolm Xs baby who died. He had been in and out of the hospital and was now out, and it looked like he was finally out of the woods. But then I got the call that he was back in the hospital so that I was again back on my face before God who gave me this Word, “Behold, the LORD’s hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear” (Isa. 59:1, KJV).
I knew the Lord was rebuking me since my faith in Him had stalled when informed that the baby was back in danger.

Having asked His forgiveness for lacking faith in Him, that evening, as Eric Simpson preached at Eagle out of Acts 3, I discerned God was saying the baby would be healed, so it’s what I told Mrs. X, that this was the Word the Lord had given me:

Now Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour. And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple; Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms. And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us. And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them. Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God (Acts 3:1-8, KJV).

Except the baby died that night, landing me back on my face before God—especially since she asked me to give the eulogy.

Confused and exhausted yet seeking God, within the hour I was clear on my mistake and on what I would say (read) at the eulogy.

Seeking the Lord when told the baby had died, I realized God meant that he’d live forever praising Him, whereas I had understood he would live and praise God now on earth, during his life on earth. It was a slight but HUGE difference! So while I’d been wrong, I’d also been right. It’s the same mistake Corrie Ten Boom’s sister made about their ministry shared in the movie The Hiding Place (1975). Her sister had discerned that she would live and have the ministry with Corrie, when God meant she would die but still be part of the ministry through her legacy, her testimony as shared by her sister. She had been wrong, yet also right.
I see the same applies concerning everything I’ve written about the church. I’m sure I’m right, just as I’m sure I’m wrong—because God’s ways are SO NOT OUR WAYS (Isa. 55:8 below). How we interpret what He says to us is so often slightly DIFFERENT than what He actually means. You can see that throughout the Scriptures and throughout history. And Christians can see it throughout much of their individual walks with Him, as well—if they’re honest.

Isaiah 55:6-8, KJV My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the LORD.

So we can’t be too hard on these bratty self-absorbed cold as iceberg “hireling[s]” (John 10:12, KJV)—those that aren’t Freemasons obviously using occult hand sings and purposely deceiving the people. The problem with the Prophetic Mountain Range is that it’s full of peaks and valleys, which have snowdrifts that keep us from knowing exactly how deep the valleys are, or how long it will take to dig our way through the snow, or how much manure lies under the snow. It gets messy. Prophecy has many peaks, many different events it’s actually pointing to because “the word of God is alive and active” (Heb. 4:12, NIV). So it works like this example from Isaiah 5.

Therefore, I’ve presented it all as I have, trusting that once others get right with Him and we start working together biblically—humbly “submitting...one to another in the fear of God” (Eph. 5:21, KJV)—we’ll have more clarity and God will work a miracle for us, many miracles. That’s what’s needed and what He’s promised to do when we’re faithful... to Him as a group. I’m basically jumping off the Cliff of Faith head first because you’ve gotta practice what you preach.

And while most professing Christians are currently serving Satan, the leading antichrist, the elect don’t belong to him. They’ve been fooled because of their lack of devotion “for all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ’s” (Phil. 2:21, KJV). But, glory to God, that’s not where the story ends!

The Funeral Service. Mrs. X had me give the eulogy at her baby’s funeral since I’d been prayer journaling the spiritual war during the baby’s life from conception to death, to eternal life. God says “In this way [in obedience to Christ] they will lay up treasure for themselves as a firm foundation for the coming age” (1 Tim. 6:19, NIV). Having impressed me to lay up treasure for myself through prayer journaling, God then had me sum up the year and a half into a four page poem for the eulogy. And while I’m not into public speaking—AT ALL—and the service was standing room only, not only did I not faint or blow my cookies, an older woman literally ran out of the church after me in her heels to praise God, with several others following. It’s what God meant when Paul wrote “My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength [the strength of God] is made perfect in [our] weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me” (2 Cor. 12:9, KJV).

The last one who came to praise God had been a giant blue-eyed creature who vigorously shook my hand then shook my husband’s hand then shook my friend’s hand, all the while saying, What a beautiful day! Beautiful beautiful day! Praise God! Praise God! More vigorous hand shaking, drained, I then noticed the powder-puff clouds on baby blue skies. It really was a beautiful day!

And I was beat because this took place during a season God had me speaking up to church leaders and taking the heat. It was the beginning of that part of my calling. Even Mrs. X would turn on me, seeing God’s hand on my life when it was convenient and not when it wasn’t—as it is with all Christians.

In any case, before the funeral service, right after I’d written the poem, I’d gone over to read it to Mrs. X, showing up just as they’d returned from the morgue (not planned). In her 20s, looking more like 80, heartbroken and exhausted from her long and difficult ordeal, I had to gently physically lead her from the kitchen to sit down in the living room. But as I read her the poem, she increasingly became herself again—as if God was breathing life back into her—so that as soon as I finished, she yelled for Mr. X to come and hear it. She was back to her old self. So within the hour both Xs and I were genuinely laughing again—and they had just viewed their 6 month old infant at the morgue. Only God can do that! We’re told “the sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise” (Ps. 51:17, KJV). No matter what’s gone down, when we’ve been walking in the Spirit, He picks us back up.

But because of the Whorish BRAT, the cord with our friends (and theirs with each other) was broken. Like so many Christians of our day, they divorced, giving “Satan...an advantage [over] us” (2 Cor. 2:11, KJV). And, like everyone else, she hasn’t even responded when I’ve tried to contact her too full of herself—like the norm.

And it’s noteworthy that Mrs. X didn’t hesitate to correct me concerning the poem. I’d written “when they took her to X-ray” when it should have been to “Delivery.” It had to do with her being pregnant and about to give birth so that if I’d rudely ignored her correction, as Christians ignore God’s prophets sent to correct them, her manner would have changed drastically. And if she hadn’t bothered to correct me, as most Christians do concerning their so-called leaders and brethren—we would have made God look the fool, as the BRAT has done so that “the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through [Christians]” (Rom. 2:24, KJV).

God allowed the cord with our friends to break, and theirs with each other, to make an important point. When her trials ended so did her close walk with the Lord—like it does for EVERYONE—a point God nailed with 9/11. Right after the attacks, Christians were talking about how the victims had finally made that emergency 911 call to God for help. Emergency over, professing Christians were back to business as usual.
So while Bill Bean (worship pastor from Eagle) had referred to me as God’s punching bag, I’ve really been more like Satan’s chew toy. (And I wrote that three years before some dogs—real animals—literally chewed me up.) Without the trials/heartache, the body of Christ being what it is, I would also ignore what Christ did for me and tells me, and “seek [my] own [interest], not the things which are Jesus Christ's” (Phil. 2:21, KJV). There’s no doubt I’d do that because “there is none that seeketh after God. [We] are all gone out of the way, [we] are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one” (Rom. 3:11-12). It’s what everyone’s done to one degree or another for the past 2000 years as Christian history reveals!

Married Life—or Not. They played the same music video over and over again for a season at Eagle, YouTube Big Tent Revival Two Sets of Joneses.

I’d discerned Buddy and I were the Christian set and my brother and his wife were the godless materialistic set. And while we haven’t had the support (nor therefore the joy) of the Christian set, the video is essentially how it played out, except my brother divorced his wife not the other way around.

But there’s another set which exists in ever increasing numbers—a set portrayed by my sister and her husband, correction, ex husband. It’s the set that has the "friendly divorce." WHAT A LIE FROM THE PIT! For those who suggest that they and their kids are fine with the divorce, divorce does nothing to help your kids or society at large. It’s a satanic lie, a whopper (John 8:44 below). Because it doesn’t actually even help you, in the long run.

John 8:44, KJV The devil...was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

Rather than get divorced, whatever the issue is, we’re to cry out to God to change the situation and to change the both of us. If you have to, separate rooms for a season as you seek God and wait on Him to work in and through you. God’s Blueprint for marriage is for us to be living as Best Friends since it’s supposed to parallel our relationship with Him. He says “Cast thy burden upon the LORD, and he shall sustain thee” (Ps. 55:22, KJV). It’s not as if He was lying.

So while my marriage has dwindled down to housemates, communicating, at most, literally a handful of words a day if that much, most days nothing at all, it’s biblical in that we haven’t usurped God, as so many have with divorce. And I’m still trusting Him to fulfill His dead bones prophesy from years ago (shared in An Eagle’s View) because “He who is the Glory of Israel does not lie or change his mind; for he is not a human being, that he should change his mind” (1 Sam. 15:29, KJV).

However, God knows, I can barely see it at this point by faith so much damage has been done. I’m just focusing on finishing the work the Lord has called me to do knowing that when it’s done I get to finally die.
Hallelujah! That’s all I really care about anymore because “for to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain” (Phil. 1:21, KJV).

And I’ve always kept this in mind. Corrie Ten Boom’s sister [portrayed in The Hiding Place, (1975)] discerned that the two of them would have a worldwide ministry, only she died. Yet through her testimony they have had the powerful ministry of which she had prophesied, even though they’re now both dead to this world (Heb. 11:4 below). So however the Lord works it all out in this marriage, it’s good, because sooner or later we do both end up Home, as do our children, and our family’s testimony—whether we’re dead or alive—will fulfill our marriage vows (Ps. 67 below).

Hebrews 11:4, KJV By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead yet speaketh.

Psalm 67:2, KJV That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations.

The poem I wrote Buddy for our first anniversary says it all, our hearts do chime, only it’s not as our love careses each other, but Time also known as God since He is the “Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending” (Rev. 1:8, KJV), and “God is love” (1 John 4:8, KJV), which never fails.
Psych Counseling. Soon enough, Mrs. X, along with Buddy, Bill Bean and his wife, Molly, all felt I needed psych counseling because of what I was saying, which I’m still saying, Christians need to REPENT! (Ps. 41:9 below). Except now I’m saying it with much more clarity. Still, the church needed to repent even before any of us had been born!

Psalm 41:9, KJV Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel against me.

What’s happened to me is what happened to Rhoda when “Peter knocked...and [she] told how Peter stood before the gate. And they said unto her, Thou art mad” (Acts 12:13-15, KJV). It’s the same thing that happened to Paul when “Festus said with a loud voice, Paul...much learning doth make thee mad” (Acts 26:24, KJV). Neither do I ”ha[ve] a devil” (Luke 7:33, KJV), am irrational, have a “persecution complex,” am being legalistic, think I’m the Messiah, or any of the many accusations hurled at me over the years by the BRAT and the lost for not wanting to acknowledge the evidence and submit to God’s Word—which they all hurl without God’s Word. It’s amazing the things sinners come up with! It’s even more amazing cold Christians can be!

Even as I edit this there’s another church scandal in court about children allegedly molested by leadership, and prominent church leaders have taken their stand with the perpetrator rather than the victims or the Word of God—and I’m the one who needs psych counseling?! WAKE UP!

Let Your Yes B E Yes. Several times in the Bible the prophet tells the people God’s commands, to which the people agree they’ll walk in—as the BRAT has done. Then he tells them they have witnessed against themselves since they won’t walk in it (Josh 24:22 below)—as the BRAT has done.

Joshua 24:22, KJV Joshua said unto the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves that ye have chosen you the LORD, to serve him. And they said, We are witnesses.
So while looking through my pictures I came across the ones I took during the groundbreaking ceremony at Eagle—since the majority of hirelings are all about building bigger buildings. The Senior Hireling, Kerry Bowman, had asked each family to take a stake and write on it their commitment to God, which we then hammered into the ground where the new building would go up. I’d forgotten about my stake and commitment, which is likely true for most if not all. And God says “Yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget” (Isa. 49:15, KJV).

My stake is the first one which says “WE COMMIT TO KNOW, LOVE AND OBEY THE LORD.” I’d spent hours decorating it with pictures and Scriptures, front and back, which I’d cut out of Christian catalogs—while praying for our family. I even varnished it, because He says “Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men” (Col. 3:23, KJV).

But by that point Buddy had really tuned out, sick of Eagle and deadbeat Christianity, yet no better himself. (That seems to be how hypocrisy works.) In fact, he was already looking at me as if I was a moron for valuing prayer and expecting more from church and from God, though he still went through the motions—and would do so for years. Though at times he seemed more earnest, quite a bit more. (Or maybe I was lying to myself since he’s my husband and I was hoping for better. God knows. Though I do know that he was never passionate about God. And he knows it himself since he used the excuse that he just doesn’t have that kind of personality. Good luck with that argument when standing before the Lord! And the thing is I saw him quite passionate once when the pagans came by on their fire truck with Santa. So I’m guessing I repeatedly lied to myself about him. Again, God knows.)

The middle stake belonged to the Beans. The verse they referenced says “Joshua said unto the people, Sanctify yourselves: for to morrow the LORD will do wonders among you” (Josh. 3:5, KJV). But instead of sanctifying themselves like so many Christians they got divorced and Bill had an ugly split with the so-called church.
The third stake belonged to friends of the time, representing typical Christians in middle leadership roles in the institutional churches, whose unmarried teen got pregnant (1 Pet. 5:8 below), as so many “Christian” teens do. And they do because the churches are setting them up to get pregnant with their so-called teen ministries which are nothing but worldliness with the name of Jesus sprinkled on them. Their verse was “Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life” (John 8:12). It’s quite appropriate, He that FOLLOWETH ME shall not walk in darkness.

1 Peter 5:8, KJV Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour.

Purpose Driven rather than driven by the Spirit of God, Eagle, like all of the harlot daughters of the Vatican, walks in darkness. Therefore, now would be a good time to repent and start working on those vows, which we never even should have made in the first place! God says “Above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation” (James 5:12, my emphasis). Not heeding His Word, Christianity as a whole has fallen into great condemnation because so-called pastors, along with the rest, focused mostly on the fun of it all, rather than on God, “the truth” (John 14:6, KJV).

We really need to learn from the preschoolers and take the Job seriously while also having fun, in that order. Through this ministry God is obviously saying we can have fun, but that it has to line up with His Word and timing.

But since we’ve been so rebellious for so long, I wonder if there’s going to be any fun left to be had at all, for this generation. It looks more like our worst nightmares playing out.

A Collision of Worldviews. One day I got an e-mail from my brother on the east coast. “Ma was HIT by a TRUCK...BLOOD in her BRAIN...article in the Washington Post...possible BROKEN BACK, could be PARALYZED...GLASS in her EYES!”
Struggling with my faith (that God was still on the Throne) and with my flesh since I lived hundreds of miles away, God comforted me by keeping His Word. He says “Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness” (Isa. 41:10, KJV). So out of the many area hospitals, my mom was taken to the one where Buddy’s cousin was a nurse (whom he seldom saw), who happened to be working in the ER when they brought my mom in. Remembering my maiden name was the same as this woman’s on the stretcher, she called her mom, a retired surgical nurse who had treated Reagan during the assassination attempt (reliable). This woman, who had cared for our girls as babies for a year while I worked, called me just as I was about to lose it. God’s comforting Word at His impeccable timing: paralysis, brain damage, or blindness, not likely. So I slept well.

And since we were homeschooling having obeyed the Lord’s leading to start doing that just a few months earlier, I could pack up the girls and our books to go care for her for more peace of mind, and easy to do without having the girls miss a beat because it’s as He says, “I am the good shepherd” (John 10:11, KJV, my emphasis).

In fact, my mom was in tears and listening (for a change) to what I was saying of God’s love and His hand on her life.

But a few hours later my sister showed up and focused on her outward appearance—as is the BRAT’s standard practice. Taking her out for a new hairdo and makeover, my mom forgot all about her desperate need for God. So again, it’s as He says. “When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side” (Matt. 13:19, KJV). My sister was going to a Methodist harlot church at the time open to homosexuality, contrary to God’s Word (Rom. 1 below), explaining this trashed opportunity.

Romans 1:22-27, KJV Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man...Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves...for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet.

Like most of professing Christianity, my sister obviously missed the last part of this verse, if she ever even read it. “Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world” (James 1:27, KJV). Not observing pure religion, my sister, like the Bride of Christ, hasn’t kept herself unspotted from the world and is, therefore, totally ineffective spiritually—which is what matters since spiritual life will endure forever whereas the life we live in the flesh will die and rot.

Preschool Faith in Action. God doesn’t tell us to do things we can’t do. He also tells us to come to Him as little children. In fact, “except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven” (Matt. 18:3, KJV). Yet most Christians today don’t actually believe children that young can really come to Him. That’s partly why God gave me this testimony. But it’s also prophetic.

That trip back east had been stressful not only because of my mom’s accident, but because I hadn’t seen my sister in 10 years since she thinks I’m “too religious.” (And to profess to be Christian, as Methodists do, it’s like my sister was saying I’m too good a friend to my best friend! You can never be too good a friend!) So on this last night my brother and his wife asked me to join them on an outing. Exhausted and facing an 11-hour drive back by myself with young children, I opted to stay home with the children, for whom I have a routine.

My Routine: At 8 p.m. all little children get on their little PJ’s, brush their little teeth, and each pick a little book. Snuggled up together, I read all their little books (often lots of extra books) and then read from a children’s Bible. We pray. I kiss their cute little faces. Then it’s lights out and good night.

So parked on the bed with several children, doing my routine, I noticed my nephew shaking his head. Making eye contact, he blurted out, “No! My parents don’t believe in angels!”

I was so tired, I’d forgotten where I was! So I said “Well...we do. We believe in God. This is His Book. We believe it. OK everyone, bed-time!”
However, like all the healthy preschoolers I’ve ever known, this child wasn’t about to let me off the hook—and neither was God. The little boy had one question after another so that, not even realizing what I was doing, I was answering them using the pictures from The Beginner's Bible. (It’s a great short read if you’ve never read the whole Bible. It outlines the whole thing.) So before even knowing what I was doing we had covered the Gospel message. And Jesus says “No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him” (John 6:44, KJV). In other words, God was drawing this little boy.

And since it’s such a simple message, the new covenant calling it “the simplicity that is in Christ” (2 Cor. 11:3, KJV), this very bright and very rebellious child understood it clearly, and said “Maya, you have to give this book to my parents!” He was all over it!

I’d actually given his parents the Quest Study Bible but they hadn’t been interested so that years later they went through a brutal divorce. Long story short, the four year-old asked God to forgive him of his sins and to come into his life (Rom. 3:23 & 10:9-10 below). He also, naturally, wanted to know how to help his family. So I taught him how to pray, saying “Just ask God to open their eyes and keep asking Him” (Matt. 7:8 below)—and, like Christ, I taught by example.

Romans 3:23, KJV All have sinned, and come short of the glory of God.

Romans 10:9-10, KJV If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

Matthew 7:8, KJV For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.
Children in bed, I grabbed my Bible and asked God if what I thought had just happened had really just happened! Going to my bookmark at Psalm 8, I listened for His answer which I received immediately:

LORD, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth! You have set your glory in the heavens. Through the praise of children and infants you have established a stronghold against your enemies, to silence the foe and the avenger (Ps. 8:1-2, NIV).

Again, I slept well.

Eyes suddenly open, I remembered the night before and was flooded with dread—my brother! (He’s the most arrogant and cold person I’ve ever met. Meaning, when he’s mad, he’s MAD.) So I grabbed my devotional asking the Lord for His perspective.

Rebuked and challenged upon reading it, I asked God for help and jumped into the shower from where I soon heard my brother stomping down the hallway saying “No! NO! NO!” I also heard my nephew’s little feet running after him, persisting “You HAVE to give your heart to God! You HAVE to!”
My young nephew had come to God as He requires (Mark 10:15 below). Having believed in his heart he was immediately evangelizing (Mark 5:19 & Jude 1:3 below), confirming to me God's Word from the devotional—that I was in for it.

Mark 10:15, KJV Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

Mark 5:19, KJV Tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.

Jude 1:3, KJV Earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

Dressed, I joined the couple in the living room where they were waiting for me. Not knowing what to say, I didn’t say anything and just listened to them while asking the Lord to give me the words to speak and to soften their hearts. He says:

Do not worry about how you will defend yourselves or what you will say, for the Holy Spirit will teach you at that time what you should say (Luke 12:11-12, NIV).

So when they were done rebuking me, I explained how I hadn’t planned what happened. I’d always been respectful of their views, as they had been of ours. Essentially, we had agreed to disagree. (In the early years, the Lord had me share the truth as opportunity presented itself with them, which wasn’t often since we didn’t live nearby. But since they hadn’t bothered to learn from the Father (John 6:45 below) though granted the opportunity throughout their lives, and given the Quest Study Bible, they got increasingly agitated, as we’ve been told will happen. God says “The person without the Spirit does not accept the things that come from the Spirit of God but considers them foolishness, and cannot understand them because they are discerned only through the Spirit” (1 Cor. 2:14, NIV).

John 6:45, KJV Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.
They rebuked me for not waiting to let them answer their child’s questions, a view I understood perfectly since I was also a parent. However, having learned from the Father, I also understood God’s view. So I explained that to have done that, knowing they reject Christ, would have been to sin against God since no one asks questions about Him without God being at work in their lives (John 6:37 & Acts 5:29 below).

John 6:37, KJV All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

Acts 5:29, KJV Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.

I also understood that this was God’s child (Ps. 127:3 below), theirs on loan, as mine are to Buddy and me (Rom. 14:12 & Matt. 18:6-10 below). But since they hadn’t bother to learn from the Father, they couldn’t understand what I was saying or why I couldn’t agree with them. It was “foolishness” to them (1 Cor. 2:14, NIV).

Psalm 127:3, KJV Children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.

Romans 14:12, KJV Every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

Matthew 18:6-10, KJV But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. Woe unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh!...Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

Exasperated with me, my brother finally said “Never mind! I’ll set him straight!” I nodded, relieved—mindful of God’s Word in this passage:

Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter. Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord (Rom. 8:35-39, KJV).

Overjoyed that God was at work in this child’s life—that he’s elect—the drive home was a breeze! I wasn’t surprised by his age since God had enlightened my girls at that age, but I was surprised that he was the first from my clan God would reach out to.

In fact, I was surprised that most preschoolers in Christian homes weren’t having their eyes opened. Now I know it’s because most Christians aren’t raising their children as God requires (Deut. 6:6-7 & Heb. 11:6 below) since their eyes aren’t open (Rev. 3:1-2 below). And they’re not since they aren’t living as God requires (John 4:24 below).

Deuteronomy 6:6-7, KJV These words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children.

Hebrews 11:6, KJV He that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

Revelation 3:1-2, NIV You have a reputation of being alive, but you are dead. Wake up!

John 4:24, KJV God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

So even though I was overjoyed, since this child wouldn’t be raised biblically either, I was also heartbroken. There would be no one to teach him the Ropes! Even if we had lived near them, I would only have answered the boy’s questions if he had asked me any. So I prayed like crazy for him and his family as I’d been doing for years—only more so. In fact, the Lord gave me peace about it (John 14:27, KJV) by somehow (I don’t remember how) letting me know this child was a Moses-type.

John 14:27, KJV Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.
But since months went by without a word from my brother, while also enduring hatred from harlot church leaders, I started doubting God’s Word when, out of nowhere, I got an e-mail from my brother asking if they could spend a week during Easter break at our house. “Please” he begged.

And since God is faithful and merciful, in order to help me stay encouraged about this boy, and because He knows the future, God coordinated events as follows.

On the first night of their visit, remembering my routine, this four year old had picked his book even before I’d told the girls to get ready for bed. But seeing he’d chosen a Christian one, my brother roughly said, “No! NOT that one!” And while there were many non-Christian books on the shelves, this child who couldn’t read, kept picking one Christian book after another, only to hear the same rough response from his dad—who kept getting rougher with him.

Awed by what this little boy was doing, I snapped out of it discerning a tantrum brewing, explosions for which this child was infamous. Not knowing what to do or say (Luke 12:12 below), I was suddenly on my knees down at his level. Touching his arm, I said “It’s so great that you want to know God! And He wants you to know Him. When He’s ready, He’ll tell you everything there is to know about Him and let you know Him really well. But, right now, He wants you to obey your Dad. OK?” (Rom. 9:16 below). And the whole time I was talking, this very rebellious child obediently listened nodding in agreement, fighting the tears. Then he immediately went with his dad.

Luke 12:12, NIV The Holy Spirit will teach you at that time what you should say.

Romans 9:16, KJV It is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.
More than a decade later, the boy having come of age, Jesus had me remind him of what had transpired, and he rejected Him! I discern it was so that after reformation within the body of Christ has taken hold—the latter rain—he won’t be able to blame his parents knowing he rejected God for himself. Duly humbled, God will use him as needed and as prophesied. And he has strayed so deep into Satan’s turf that he’s now a practicing homosexual.

And how could he not have rejected Jesus, considering how he was raised, the state of the church, and the trials they’ve experienced—a whole family of friends, his good friend, killed by during 9/11 and his parents bitterly divorced? And while it’s not all the church’s fault—since none of them have bothered to learn from the Father—hypocritical Christians aren’t helping the lost AT ALL! As God says “I have no praise for you, for your meetings do more harm than good” (1 Cor. 11:17, NIV).

My guess is that after the BRAT repents and reformation spreads as times get harder, my nephew will again come humbly to Christ and get used by Him to reach those with whom he’s been raised—people desperately deep into Satan’s territory—leading them out to safer pastures, like Moses. But it’s heartbreaking how much damage he’ll probably do to himself and others in the meantime—is doing. Watching testimonies of former homosexuals, it’s always the same, a very rapid and very deep slide into Satan’s abyss.

Judas Types. For some time the Lord had me speaking to Eagle leadership through the written word. So handing the Bowman hireling a letter the Lord had impressed me to write to him, about the same old thing—REPENT—Kerry hugs me and says “Maya, everyone hear loves you!”

Wow! Everyone?

I was shocked at what he’d said and done, and naturally encouraged (though he hadn’t opened the envelope yet). Maybe I was nearing the end of the line—even though I knew the Lord had told me it was only the beginning.

Class repeat after me: LO-BO-TO-ME.
I’d known Eagle was Boot Camp, so I knew Tours of Duty would follow since that’s how it works. You go to Boot Camp for training and then get sent off to FULFILL your mission in this war “against the rulers of the darkness of this world” (Eph. 6:12, KJV).

Therefore, within days of the Everyone Loves You hug, Kerry sent Bill and two so-called elders with the conditions under which I could remain at Eagle, doing it because crooked cowardly leaders always send their cronies to do their dirty work for them. We all know this.

So after giving me their unbiblical stipulations, they hugged us goodnight. And what’s a Christian to do but hug back? It’s like Jesus let Judas kiss Him:

By morning Buddy and I had both discerned it had been a goodbye hug—and good riddance! God had finally released us! (We hadn’t realized that was as good as it gets, even though we already knew it!)

And it wasn’t good riddance, because right away God called me to not only keep praying for them but to step it up. He says:

Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you, Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you...And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for sinners also love those that love them. And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for sinners also do even the same. And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again. But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil. Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful (Luke 6:27-36, KJV).
The Lord also had me write a letter to several Eagles telling them what had gone down, urging them to pray for their leadership. But, of course, I didn’t hear from anyone—even though “everyone” there “loved” me. More importantly, they all professed to love Jesus! But who really cares if God’s Word and ways are being dishonored, just as long as this thing works for us. That is what it all comes down to. Most professing Christians in those buildings they call church don’t give a damn about Jesus! So it’s not working for you, but for Satan, your ENEMY (Matt. 12:30; Rev. 13:3; Phil. 2:21 below). Saying you care and showing you care are two very different things.

Matthew 12:30, KJV He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

Revelation 13:3, KJV All the world wondered after the beast.

Philippians 2:21, KJV For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ’s.

About a year later we ran into a couple with whom we’d spent quite a few afternoons over lunch after services. The woman then asked me if we were ready to come back since time should have healed all wounds—MISSING the point. The only way time heals all wounds is because God is Time, the “the Beginning and the End” (Rev. 22:13, KJV), and He does it by way of repentance, and, therefore, truth. He says “Confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed” (James 5:16, KJV). Our measure of time just helps those who’ve been wounded by building up a scar, but nothing’s gone away. Christians have not been called to sin against God and each other, let some time pass, and go on business as usual. That’s what the lost do! God’s people are called to “Be...holy; for [He is] holy” (1 Pet. 1:16, KJV). And the only way to be holy is through obedience and repentance so that complete healing and growth can take place. Jesus clearly says “Produce fruit in keeping with repentance” (Matt. 3:8, NIV).

New Converts as Leaders. Having asked God for two years to allow us to leave Eagle, that’s when He finally released us, giving me this verse “Ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father” (Rom. 8:15, KJV), giving Buddy a Scripture echoing the same. The last conversation I had with Eagle leadership was with the pastor 2nd in command who’s now the senior pastor, Eric Simpson, surprised and angry that we were leaving. So delusional! Having been told that you have no discernment and need someone else to interpret God’s Word for you—which is in TOTAL contradiction to the teachings of the New Testament—Who would want to stay? And yet, we would have stayed if God had told us to do so! Not because we’re idiots who enjoy being verbally abused, but out of love and obedience to God who says “Resist not evil” (Matt. 5:39, KJV). Eric yelled at me on the phone “YOU KNOW WHAT YOUR PROBLEM WAS, MAYA! YOU DIDN’T TRUST US ENOUGH!”

But it was the exact opposite—I had trusted them too much. Fearing man more than God, I’d loved man more than God, a jealous God (Ex. 20:5; Matt. 16:23 below). It’s what all born again Christians in the institutional churches are doing. And I did even though God had given me a very decent dose of the fear of God!

Exodus 20:5, KJV Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God.

Matthew 16:23, KJV [Jesus] turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.
HOMEWORK: On Institutional Church Leadership

1. With Eric Simpson’s example, since he was placed in leadership as a new convert, why does God say a recent convert shouldn’t be placed in a leadership role?

   Here is a trustworthy saying: Whoever aspires to be an overseer desires a noble task. Now the overseer is to be above reproach, faithful to his wife, temperate, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, not given to drunkenness, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money. He must manage his own family well and see that his children obey him, and he must do so in a manner worthy of full respect. (If anyone does not know how to manage his own family, how can he take care of God’s church?) He must not be a recent convert, or he may become conceited and fall under the same judgment as the devil (1 Tim. 3:1-6, NIV).

2. Eric also said on the Eagle website (in 2014) that he likes to hang out “at a monastery with a good book.” What's wrong with that?

3. Another time I’d gone up and noted that something Eric had said in his sermon contradicted Psalm 119:100 which says “I have more understanding than the elders, for I obey your precepts” (NIV). I was just pointing it out in a friendly manner. But he immediately yelled at me and huffed off. Then, having told his peers, they all got on my case about it. Are we to obey anyone no matter what they demand of us, just because they’re the supposedly "anointed" ones? (2 Cor. 10:5 below). And is huffing off and circling the wagons a godly response? (Eph. 4:26 & Eph. 5:21 below). You should figure it out before it’s too late!

   2 Corinthians 10:5, NIV We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ.

   Ephesians 4:26 Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath.

   Ephesians 5:21 Submit...yourselves one to another in the fear of God.
I needed the Tour of Duty at Eagle because it was prep work for the walk the Lord had in store for me with Christianity as a whole, just as it is for today’s elect in the harlot institutional churches in relation to American government leaders. And it’s part of the reason God allowed Eric to walk that path. After he repents (provided he’s actually elect), he’ll know exactly what’s wrong with the path he took so that he can counsel others against it. It’s like Paul had to experience hating Jesus’ friends, as Saul, before being hated for befriending Jesus as Paul (Acts 9:1-23 below). You have to walk in it to better understand it from God’s perspective and to better know how to deal with it and help God’s people.

Acts 9:1-23, KJV Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem. And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven: And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks. And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do...And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink. And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord. And the Lord said unto him...I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake. And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized...and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ...And after that many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him.
Bawling as always, when I went to the Lord about the phone “conversation” God’s Word confirmed what I’d discerned. My bookmark was on Psalm 40, “Blessed is that man that maketh the LORD his trust, and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies” (Ps. 40:4, KJV). I had known they’d turned aside to lies and were super proud, yet I’d still respected them because I had also learned from them. And I’d been wrong to do so. Anyone who disrespects Jesus does not deserve our respect—especially when they profess to represent Him, and all the more so if they call themselves leaders among God’s people and refuse to submit to God’s Word. And none of them deserve our respect because they are “hireling[s who] careth not for the sheep” (John 10:13). Why I did, and what Christianity has done as a whole is summed up with this graphic someone else made.

I’d also struggled because this was my first church home (the only one), which I’d longed for having thought that the churches were the best place on earth for God’s people—and which God had led me to, like He’d lead me to marry Buddy. So, again, I was right while being wrong. Biblical churches (as modeled for us in the New Testament) are the best place for God’s people. But I’ve yet to encounter one. All the house churches the Lord has led me to are just as unbiblical and carnal as the institutional harlot daughters of the Vatican.

In fact, it’s taken me years and loads of abuse from Christians to finally totally disrespect them. It’s taken that long, not only because of the condition of my “wicked” heart (Jer. 17:9), a saint prone to sin, but because of the truth as stated by Peter “to whom shall we go?” (John 6:68). No one else has the words of life but Jesus and Christians.

And God told us that the remnant of the last days would be as small as it was during Noah’s day. Scripture says:

As the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be (Matt. 24:37-39).

The fact is that every time over the past 20 years when God has shown me a Christian who seems to be more mature and earnest in the faith, they’ve all very quickly revealed how unbiblical they actually are, not only with their cold attitudes but by their doctrine. I understand that there is a remnant—but that remnant is worldwide. Maybe there’s not one genuine follower of Christ in the entire U.S!? Could it be that not one American Christian is willing to be held accountable to God’s Word? God help us! YouTube Bill Ellis Weeping Prophet https://youtu.be/KhLGjTa9OYQ.

Released by the Lord from Eagle, He immediately made it clear that He wanted me to continue to pray for them and step it up. And it's not what I felt like doing! “Nevertheless not as I will, but as [God] wills” (Matt. 26:39, KJV). Sitting at the Lord’s feet, within no time (surprising myself), I was not only praying for them, but I even reached out to Bill Bean a few times in obedience to God. And Bill replied with cold dead silence because it wasn’t God’s timing for him to respond since “it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy” (Rom. 9:16, KJV).

And the Lord has had me repeatedly reach out to Bill (and to others) to allow me to know Him better by building up my faith—something He does by testing our obedience. It’s a really great test too (from God’s perspective) when He tells you to reach out to someone while also telling you that they won’t have ears to hear, especially if He tells you they'll treat you like garbage. Will you still obey Him? Moses did (Ex. 4:21 below), as did some others. And Jesus is the best example. He knew we'd reject Him, even as born again Christians, and do it for two thousand years, and He still obeyed the Father and faced a brutally painful and humiliating death—for us. And He's our role model having called all elect to be like Him “for even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps” (1 Pet. 2:21, KJV). God wants us to love Him and people in that order, as revealed by the two greatest commandments, because nothing less than that will ever work, as the last 2000 years prove.

Exodus 4:21 The LORD said unto Moses, When thou goest to return into Egypt, see that thou do all those wonders before Pharaoh, which I have put in thine hand: but I will harden his heart, that he shall not let the people go.

Frying Pan Faith. Hell Week (the Psych Ward experience right after having begged God to take over my life) had just been a preview of the war we’re in with “spiritual wickedness in high places” (Eph. 6:12, KJV). So by the end of Eagle days I was really fried as nearly everyone except for my little girls had given me something of a Judas kiss. And the Lord had me break away from the rest since they’ve also been serving the enemy and God tells us “not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolator...with such an one not to eat” (1 Cor. 5:11, KJV). God wanted this eagle to fly alone, because, that’s what eagles do!
Hurt and exhausted, discerning this was just the BEGINNING, the Lord had two movies for me at the time, besides His Word, confirming things. One was The Hiding Place (1975), which, of course, isn’t entirely biblical. But, after the movie is over, Corrie Ten Boom, now elderly, comes on and says something like, No matter how hard it gets, Jesus is deeper still. I knew the Lord was speaking to me through her, just as He’d used Stuart McAllister during an RZIM conference to prophesy to me as he yelled to the whole congregation staring straight at me in the back of the room. (God had him looking straight at me since He was behind it.) Stuart yells “When Jesus sets out to use you greatly, it will feel like He HATES YOUR GUTS!” Looking straight at me he went on and on yelling about how hard it would get. And I’d known immediately that it was the Lord warning me since it’s as He says “My sheep hear my voice” (John 10:27, KJV). So, that’s how it’s felt having been placed by God in the sandwich scenario, hated by unbelievers and “believers” alike, so that no matter what I say or do, I get ignored or eaten alive.

The other movie was of a couple who, unknown to them, had been infected with a deadly communicable disease in Mexico and then crossed the border illegally. So throughout the extremely difficult journey—99% of the movie—people were dying all around them while they were being hunted down while they were sick and while they were trying to find their way to a place they’d never been to before, until the woman, who was somewhat immune, ends her exhausting journey in the arms of a compassionate cop. Again, I knew it was God’s preview. And it’s exactly how it’s played out, I just haven’t physically landed in those arms yet, though I am in His arms since He “will never leave [me]” (Heb. 13:5, KJV). (But I’ve never been able to find the movie again.)

Working on the original book God used Google Images and some hot dogs to confirm how it’s played out, to go with the line I’d had in the play, “Out of the fire and into the frying pan.” (Heb. 12:29 & Josh. 1:5 below).

Hebrews 12:29, KJV We have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?

Joshua 1:5, KJV As I was with Moses, so I will be with thee: I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.

A Note on Friendship with the Lord: Since I heard this again yesterday, and the Lord just brought it to mind, I’m going to plug it in right here. The “hireling[s]” (John 10:13, KJV) often scoff at Christians for “bringing God down to our level...as if He’s our Buddy.” And there are two huge problems with that.

1. This is coming from men who “careth not for the sheep” (John 10:13, KJV) and who are Illuminati/Jesuits who have purposely set out to deceive God’s people.
2. The whole amazing thing about what Jesus did is to make God assessable to us as a Friend so that He said “I have called you friends” (John 15:15, KJV). Well, if you’re the kind of friend that I can’t be myself with, you’re not really my friend. You’re an acquaintance, and not one I’m even all that interested in.

Through this ministry, especially with the biblical interpretations, God is revealing what a close Friend Jesus is willing to be to us—when we take Him seriously.
Judging Righteously. Spurred on by Kerry Bowman and the promise of the new worship center he would be leading—spurred on also by his own wicked heart (Jer. 17:9 below) and el Diablo (1 Pet. 5:8 below)—Bill Bean accused me of being Dathan (Num. 16:1-3 below). But even if I had been, which is a real stretch since I had NOBODY rising up against them with me (in fact, it’s what he did a year later), they still messed up in that they should have bound and gagged me in front of the whole congregation (Matt. 18:15-17 below). So God boomeranged what Bill accused me of back on him since he was the one in rebellion. It’s what He’s promised to do (Jer. 2:19 below) as modeled for us with Haman (Esth. 7:6-10 below).

Jeremiah 17:9, KJV The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked.

1 Peter 5:8, KJV The devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour.

Numbers 16:1-3, KJV Dathan and [others]... gathered themselves together against Moses and against Aaron.

Matthew 18:15-17, KJV If thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone...But if he will not hear thee...tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican.

Jeremiah 2:19, KJV Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

Esther 7:6-10, KJV Esther said, The adversary and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen. And the king arising from the banquet of wine in his wrath went into the palace garden: and Haman stood up to make request for his life to Esther the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the king. Then the king said, Hang him thereon. So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai.
The fact is that pastors, hirelings—as a whole—haven't cared whether or not they're honoring God and His Word—that's obvious when you compare what they're doing to the new covenant, which is what God has had me do with this ministry. And since they haven't cared about honoring Jesus for hundreds of years, it's now irrelevant to them—but not to God who says “Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap” (Gal. 6:7, KJV).

So while today's “best” harlot church leaders with large platforms have been living cake lives fleecing God’s people, I find comfort in the fact that they've wasted their entire lives away building their kingdoms on earth rather than where it actually matters—speaking of those who are actually elect. So while you’ll be tempted to say I’m so unloving for being glad these people have wasted their lives away, engage thy brain (Titus 1:10-11 & John 7:24 below). The damage they’ve been doing is no small thing. YouTube 25 Sobering Statistics on Global Poverty That Might Upset You. https://youtu.be/zwIEZDMDBo4.

Titus 1:10-11, KJV There are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers...Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.

John 7:24, KJV Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

As it is, it would be loving for me to pray for key harlot church leaders to IMMEDIATELY DROP DEAD like Sapphira and Ananias! (Acts 5:4-10 below). What are these hypocrites compared to BILLIONS in need of God’s love and protection? (Rev. 2:21 below). However, God gave me the Word that Bill would be “converted [and] strengthen th[e] brethren” (Luke 22:32, KJV) so I still hang on to that promise since “hope [in God] does not disappoint” (Rom. 5:5, NASB).

Acts 5:4-10, KJV Thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God...behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out. Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost.

Revelation 2:21, KJV I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.
